

Technical Trainer Certificate

Designing and delivering effective and interesting one to one training sessions

Course Overview

This course is ideal for those wishing to become more adept at delivering training to individuals or small groups. Extending basic training techniques, it encourages a dynamic and flexible approach to your delivery and by taking into account some of the recent advances in accelerated learning, communication and NeuroLinguistic Programming (NLP), we maximise your results.

Why this Course?

This course looks at how to identify the steps involved in a task, setting standards for each step, training these steps out to delegates and then testing understanding to ensure that the task is carried out correctly. Basically a simple process, but nevertheless, one that needs to be carefully followed. pitchblue shows you how to design and deliver practical, informative and engaging training sessions.

Who is it Aimed at?

This three-day course is for anyone who has never delivered training before or for trainers who want to refresh their knowledge. Managers, heads of department, business owners, team leaders and in-house trainers who are responsible for on-the-job practical skills training will all find this motivating programme of immediate use in the workplace.

What will I Learn?

You'll gain the skills to make sure your trainee is motivated in the learning process, ensuring that the investment you make gets the results you want. We consider how training can best be delivered to secure effective learning, how to structure and design training sessions and of course, how to make any training sessions interesting, stimulating and relevant.

Why is this Program so Good ?

This is one of the best train-the-trainer programmes currently available in the UK - or so our clients keep telling us - their testimonials are on our website!! Delivered by one of the country's foremost authorities on learning and development, and using cutting edge approaches such as NLP, it enables you to become a high quality, registered and accredited trainer in only 3 days.
